Customers,

During this time of uncertainty and heightened concerns for health and food safety, we want to assure everyone that food safety is the absolute highest priority at Evans. On multiple levels we meet and exceed industry standards for food safety.

- We are a USDA, FDA, and County Health inspected facility. A USDA inspector is always onsite during operating hours.
- We have an in-house PCQI (Preventive Controls Qualified Individual) employee who frequently performs food safety audits on all food production and handling processes.
- In January 2020 we completed our yearly 3rd party food safety audit and received a 96 out of 100 score.
- We are taking further action ensure personal health and food safety. Any employee that displays cold-like symptoms are being sent home for one week. We are sanitizing the interior of all delivery truck cabs daily. Delivery drivers are sanitizing hands more frequently and wearing gloves while delivering orders.

We are very privileged to work with so many small businesses and independently owned restaurants. We're also a small family owned business, we depend on restaurant food orders and restaurants depend on community support, dining in or taking out. We are all in this together, a heightened awareness and preparedness are at the forefront as is the dire importance for supporting local businesses in your community!

We'll see you out there, cheers!
